

Efficient Operations

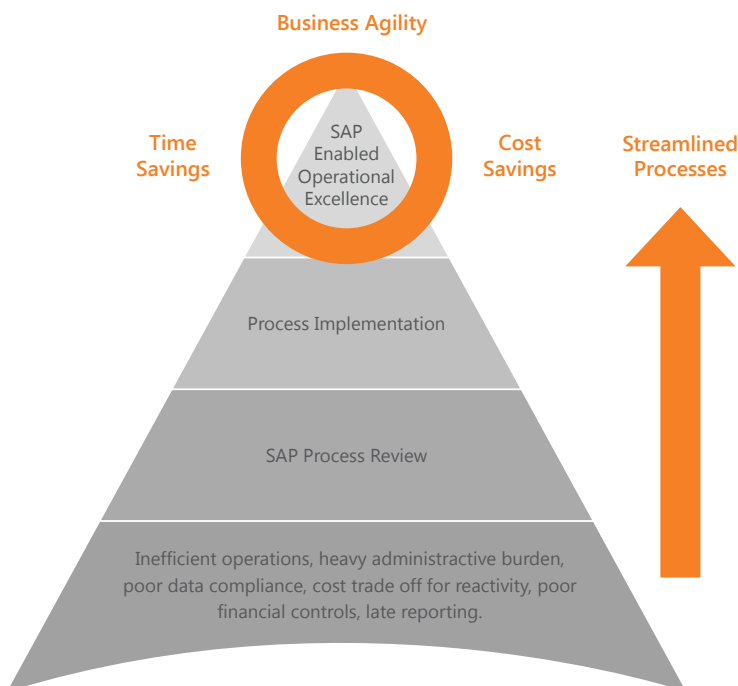

Cost effective upstream operations through optimal business processes - delivered by the oil and gas SAP® specialists.

Streamlining the complexity of oil and gas operations - and using SAP® in order to achieve this - is high on many of our clients' agendas. It can be done to great effect, but requires some very specific know-how.

We have over 20 years experience delivering SAP solutions for oil and gas and are the only SAP partner to focus exclusively on the upstream industry. Ultimately we can help save you millions of pounds, kroner or dollars through improved control of your upstream operations.

We enable easier, better and compliant management of:

- Any work process managed in SAP
- Asset and equipment maintenance
- Mobile applications for levels of maintenance efficiency you didn't even think were possible
- Inventory and critical spares
- Logistics in an offshore environment
- Knowledge and control of your business performance using analytics

Trust the experts

One of our clients had the worst stock balance sheet within their corporate group. They developed 96 KPI's to improve their performance, and we helped them achieve all 96. They went from the worst performer in the group to the best.

A supermajor was struggling with their inventory management and failed an internal audit target. Absoft helped them achieve a 5% inventory reduction through improved control and data reporting, saving them millions of dollars every year.

One of the world's biggest subsea service companies had trouble keeping track of their huge fleet of equipment; at any given time they didn't know where 10% of their equipment was. We worked with them to implement a mobile solution for equipment management. The result is enabling them to meet project delivery targets, with a 40% reduction in costs for ad hoc external sourcing of equipment in short lead timeframes.

An international E&P company brought us in to help with their inspection rounds and managing safety critical equipment. We helped them implement a mobile solution on two of their platforms. They are now managing inspection without a paper process. The result is a notable impact on operational efficiency due to the improvements in maintenance planning, inspection reporting and utilisation of technicians' time.

We have the track record you need to deliver best practice and high value solutions, quickly. Call in the oil and gas specialists.
